

History of the Joseph Vaughn Oratorical Competition

This competition for local High School Students is co-sponsored by Furman University and Alpha Greenville Foundation with our four major sponsors Gamma Gamma Lambda Chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity Inc., The Blood Connection, Vision Plus, and US&S, Inc.

The purpose of the competition is to encourage oratorical skills among students in the spirit of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. and Mr. Joseph Vaughn, who was the first African-American student to attend Furman University.

Contestants are judged on Speech Development, Effectiveness, Correctness, and Speech Value. Final elements will add physical appearance, voice, mannerism, and appropriateness to the judging criteria. The contest was first held in 2008 at the Chapel on Furman University campus. MLK Planning Committee selects a theme each year.

Brief History of Joseph Vaughn's Enrollment at Furman University

On February 2, 1965, four African-Americans enrolled at Furman. Three were graduate students in education; the other was freshman Joe Vaughn. Mr. Vaughn's enrollment was the result of concerted effort to enroll him that started in 1963.

Vaughn proved to be a model student. An English major, he excelled in class, served as head cheerleader, coordinated important campus forums, and volunteered in the Service Corps. Witty and outgoing, he made friends quickly and easily. His smile was like a beam of sunlight; it radiated warmth and joy.

After graduating from Furman, Vaughn went on to earn master's degrees from the University of South Carolina and the University of Georgia. From 1969 to 1982 he taught in the Greenville County schools, and in 1981 he was elected president of the South Carolina Education Association, a position he held for almost a decade. Joseph Vaughn passed away in 1991.
